St. Clair CPA Solutions Employees Cook Up Food and Funds for Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House

Conshohocken, PA—Employees of St. Clair CPA Solutions and its subsidiary, St. Clair CPAs, P.C., traded accounting tools for kitchen tools on June 25, 2010 when they cooked dinner for guests residing at the Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House (PRMH).

Kim Collins, Human Resources Manager for St. Clair CPA Solutions, said that about 20 employees from the company's two offices in Conshohocken, PA and Merchantville, NJ contributed their time to help prepare the meal, while other employees made a financial contribution in support of the dinner and PRMH.

Employees who could not be in the PRMH kitchen on Friday afternoon and evening helped in preparation prior to the event by shopping and baking. A dozen employees arrived at PRMH at 2:30 pm on June 25th to cook, serve, and clean up after the dinner, which included eggplant parmigiana, chicken parmigiana, vegetables, salad, and dessert for approximately 80 people.

Linda Parry, PRMH Director of Volunteers, said that the nonprofit "home-away-from-home" for families with critically ill children in treatment at area hospitals relies on volunteer contributions to prepare and serve meals to its guests. "When families come back to PRMH from a long day at the hospital, it's a relief to be able to sit down to a home-cooked meal," said Parry.

Founded in 1974, PRMH is the world's very first Ronald McDonald House and the model for nearly 300 Houses in the U.S. and abroad. Learn more about PRMH's mission and volunteer services at www.philarmh.org.
