Bill Easton brings his business clients more than 30 years of professional experience in accounting and litigation services.

In 1978, Bill launched his career as an assistant controller for two hotels, where he supervised internal accounting. Joining a certified public accounting firm in 1981, he gained experience by performing and managing municipal audits in the tri-state area, handling all facets of public accounting work, and reviewing financial statements for a diverse group of clients that included a concentration in real estate and construction. Drawing on his computer science education, Bill also focused on automation systems, evaluating clients' internal controls, document flow, and capital policies.

As an original shareholder of St. Clair & Easton in 1986, Bill worked to deliver high quality accounting services to small and mid-sized businesses. With a growing reputation for dedication and personal service, he helped lead the firm to become St. Clair CPAs, P.C. and St. Clair CPA Solutions, one of the leading accounting and advisory firms in the greater Philadelphia region.

Bill has special expertise in meeting the accounting and business consulting needs of medical practices and health service companies, government municipalities, insurance and service businesses, and the construction industry. As a Diplomat of the American Board of Forensic Accounting, he is also highly experienced in litigation services and equally skilled in presenting expert testimony for a client or the court.

Bill was graduated from Drexel University with dual majors, earning B.S. degrees in Accounting and Computer Science. He and his wife reside with their three children in Havertown, Pennsylvania.
